So, whether you're a seasoned skier or simply tagging along for the experience, Chalet Violette is a great place to base yourselves.

A stay at this pleasant two-floor eight-bedroom chalet promises to bring heaps upon heaps of rustic elegance to your group. With a pleasant backdrop of winter woodland and dramatic Alpine mountains, this self-contained chalet offers private parking and plenty of room. Throughout Chalet Violette, traditional Alpine architecture set against modern, simplistic decor helps to set the scene for a laid-back rustic escape with an edge of chicness.

Arriving at Chalet Violette, one of the first things you're sure to notice is the lovely outdoor hot tub and sauna - perfect for rejuvenating after a tiring day on the mountain. Inside, you'll enter through a spacious porch and entry hall, with a dedicated space to store your equipment between ski sessions located just inside the property.

A cosy living room points towards a traditional log cabin at the heart of the traditional home. Behind the lounge area is a long dining table, perfect for group meals that have been masterfully prepared in your fully-equipped kitchen. Offering subdued luxury through and through, one of the most popular aspects of Chalet Violette is the support from its owners. If, on occasion, you don't fancy cooking, no problem, a private chef can be arranged within the home for a wonderfully unique dining experience.

The chalet's ground floor is home to two bedrooms, with the remaining six bedrooms on the 1st floor, all containing twin beds that can be pushed together to form doubles if needed, along with private en-suite bathrooms. Dressed in simple, comfortable decor, you're sure to get a great night's sleep at Chalet Violette.

To make the most of the views and crisp Alpine air, seating terraces are available on each floor with access provided directly via sets of bright patio doors.
