Location & Local Information

This is one of the most magical enclaves on the island of Ibiza since from Cala d'Hort, San Jose, you will be able to enjoy the show offered by the impressive silhouettes of the islets of it's Vedrà and it's Vedranell. On the first, a spectacular 385-meter-high rock, thousands of legends and myths have circulated for years that, despite not having been proven, attract hundreds of onlookers every summer who claim to recharge their energy every time they approach the islet.

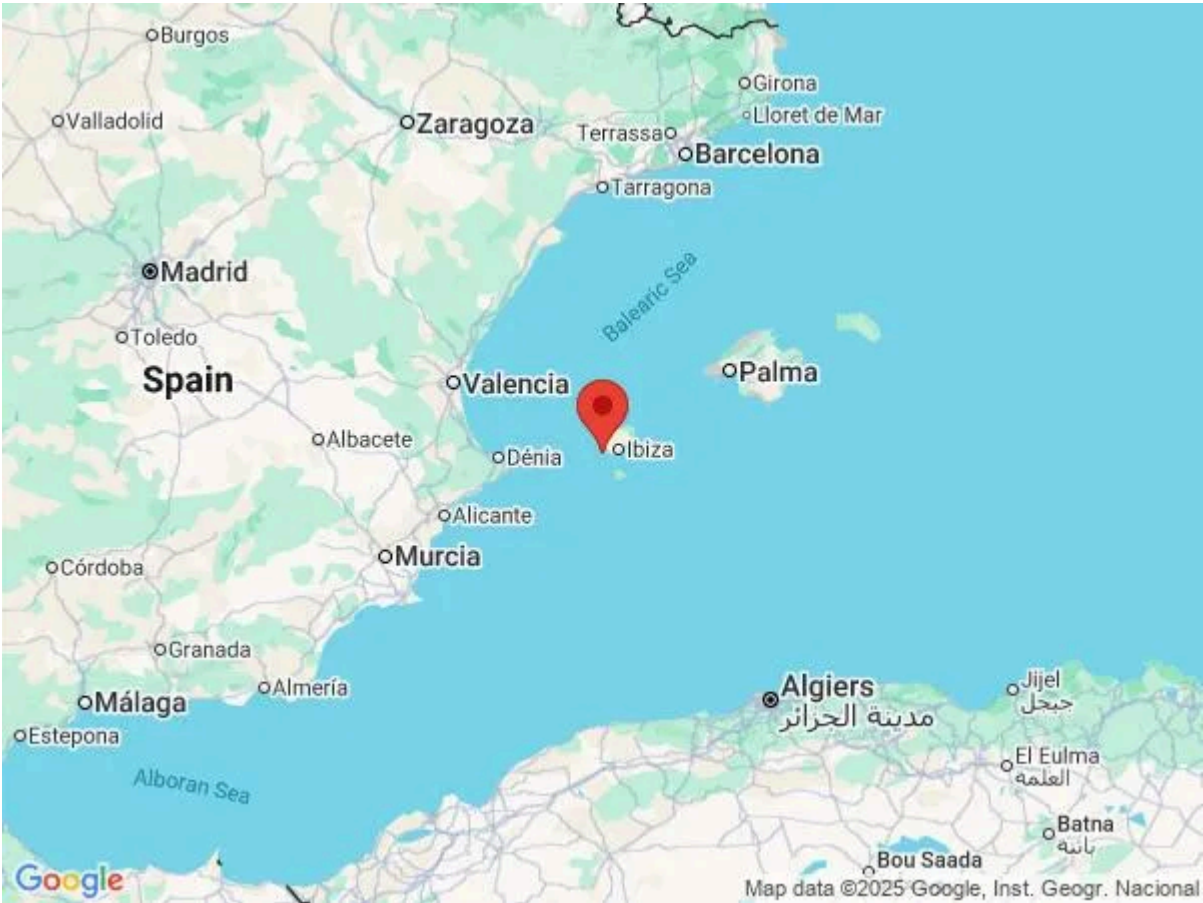

Considered an area of high environmental value, was declared Natural Park in the 90s to protect it from massive construction.

Cala d'Hort looks like something out of a postcard. Have fine white sand at one end and a more rocky area in the other. Their waters are clear and shallow. Therefore you can go quietly with the little ones of the house. Some of the best restaurants on the island. Restaurant El Carmen have incredible views of the beach, so while you taste some of the most typical dishes of Ibizan cuisine, you can keep them well guarded. Es Boldado Is another of the mythical restaurants of Ibiza, as well as Cala d'Hort restaurant. In all of them, rice and fresh fish are essential.

To be surrounded by cliffs, is a perfect place to plant the diving glasses and fins and go skirting them. Thus, you will witness the wealth that it possesses this area and that so many tourists and residents attract.
