

Chateau Camelot

Region: Midi-Pyrenees Sleeps: 20

Overview

With incredible views of the Lot valley, Château Camelot will captivate its guests with its fantastic features and beautiful setting. An absolute dream for all ages, enjoy the tranquillity of the 50-acre private grounds with its wild flowers and woodland or play to your hearts content with the many games and activities offered here.

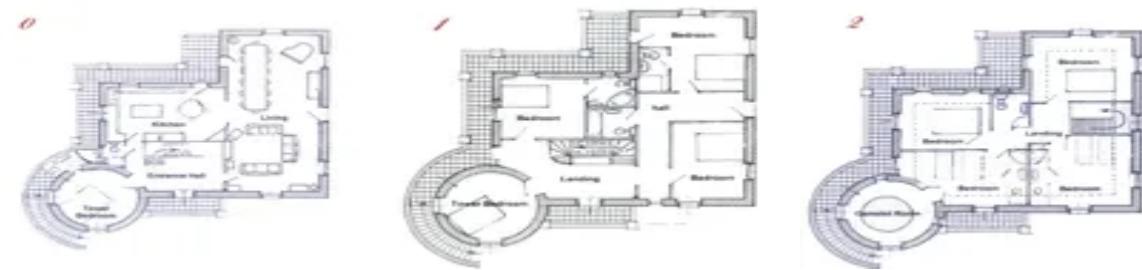

There's a charming ambience in this welcoming home from its drawing room with chesterfield sofas surrounding the log-burning fire to its ten bedrooms, some featuring carved French beds and many with glorious views of the surrounding countryside. Feel the magic of the top-floor tower bedroom with its canopied circular bed and little windows looking out to the valleys beyond.

A wine-cellar with its own honesty bar and table allows you to enjoy some of the fine wines of this region or take a bottle up to sit with family and friends on the pretty terrace. The outdoor dining area is also a perfect spot for al-fresco meals in the summer sun or warm balmy evenings with the pool lit in the background.

As well as the swimming pool and outdoor jacuzzi, adults and children alike will appreciate the countless facilities from target golf and a five-a-side football pitch outside to the indoors sports hall with table-football, darts, ping-pong and a gym. There are bikes for guests to use as well as a children's play area outside; whether you are seeking peaceful relaxation or endless family amusement, it'll be hard to leave this appealing abode.

Yet the glorious Lot region is waiting to be explored with its world-famous vineyards, historic châteaux and delightful villages and towns. Visit local farmer's markets selling wonderful seasonal produce, drive to perched villages in idyllic settings or take boat trips along the Lot River. Puy-l'Évêque, Cahors and Saint-Cirq-Lapopie are just some of the beautiful places to visit or simply spend your summer days river swimming or canoeing nearby.

If you're wishing to head further afield, head to Rocamadour, Gourdon and some of Dordogne's 'Plus Beaux Villages' for yet more breathtaking beauty.

Location & Local Information

South of the Lot River, just half an hour from the historic town of Cahors, this château is in a stunning setting surrounded by fifty acres of private grounds with wonderful views of the Lot valley.

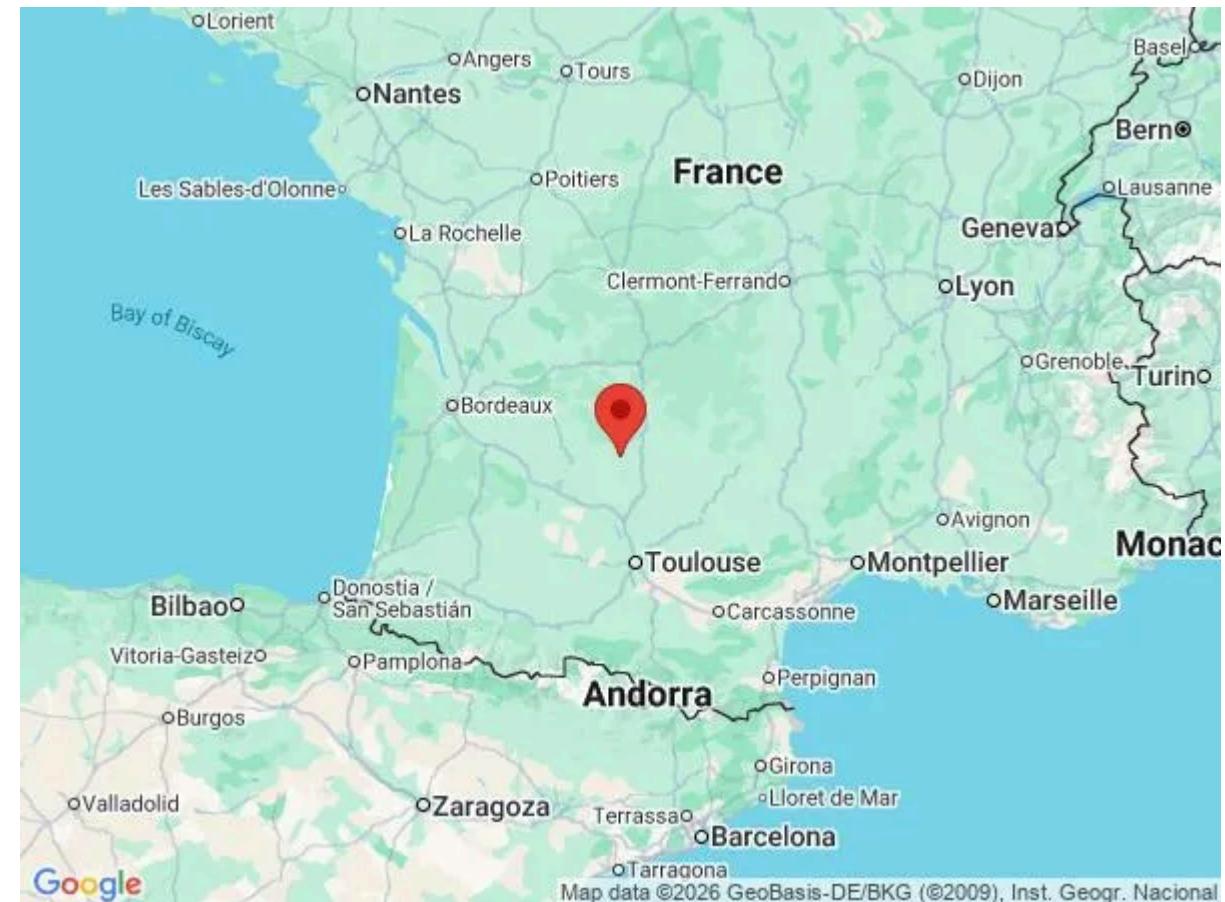

There's a pretty village within a 4km drive with a boulangerie, small shop and post office whilst the riverside village of Luzech (7km) offers further shops and amenities as well as a couple of restaurants and a Wednesday morning market. Luzech's setting on the banks of two parts of the river is especially picturesque. A little further east, head to a brilliant Base de Loisirs on the Lot with supervised swimming in July and August as well as a river beach, canoe hire, paddle-boarding, pedalos and a play area.

The nearest town is beautiful Cahors (23km), well-known for its historic sights including Le Pont Valentré, now a UNESCO World Heritage site. Explore the medieval historic centre, discover picturesque squares, narrow lanes and some excellent restaurants. The Wednesday and Saturday morning markets are a particular delight selling all sorts of seasonal local produce such as truffles, foie gras and Quercy melons.

Across this region you will be able to visit many vineyards and wineries around Cahors, some of them famous for producing some of the finest Malbec grapes in the world. Private tours and tastings can be arranged.

From May to September take a river cruise along the Lot in Cahors or in July and August you can take a day boat trip as far as the incredibly beautiful village of Saint-Cirq-Lapopie (50km). This village is known to be one of France's classified 'Plus Beaux Villages' and can also be reached in around an hour by car. It's an enchanting place with flower-filled lanes, little art galleries and delightful shops selling all sorts of artisan products – it's an area that has inspired artists for many years.

A little closer to home, Puy-l'Évêque (20km) is another charming village, perched above the Lot with its beautiful stone houses and maze of narrow lanes and steps. Take a boat trip along the river from here and hire canoes or pedaloes. Market-lovers should visit on a Tuesday morning; other wonderful markets in the area include Montcuq (17km) on a Sunday morning and Prayssac (15km) on a Friday.

There are many historic châteaux to visit in the Lot-et-Garonne from the incredible ruins of Château de Bonaguil (38km), the pretty gardens and surroundings of Château de Fumel (40km) and the especially beautiful Chateau de Gavaudun (50km).

Other classified 'Plus Beaux Villages' that can be reached in under an hour include Monpazier (54km) and Monflanquin (55km) or head further north to the Dordogne river with Domme (55km), La Roque-Gageac (56km) and Beynac-et-Cazenac (63km). Take a boat trip along the river, hire canoes, explore Farmer's markets and discover the glorious landscapes of the Dordogne.

Rocamadour (70km) is another outstanding place of natural beauty with its perfectly preserved town built on the edge of a cliff, perhaps combined with a trip to charming Gourdon (49km), one of many gorgeous towns of the Lot region.

What we love

- It's an amazing place for families with its 5-a-side football pitch, mini golf course and sports hall with ping pong, table tennis and more!
- Spend lazy summer days canoeing or boating on the Lot River at a nearby Base de Loisir.
- With its log-burning fire and central heating, it's also a magical place in the cooler months, especially Christmas and New Year.
- An honesty bar in the wine cellar allows you to sample some excellent French wine.
- Historic Cahors is just half an hour away, surrounded by glorious vineyards producing some of the world's best Malbec wines

What you should know...

- Quiet and non-intrusive owners live on-site in the cottage adjoining the sports hall, they will be very happy to help.
- The tower bedroom with its circular double bed is accessed via one of the twin bedrooms on the second floor.
- The 'target' golf-course in the grounds is great - there are six holes and it's for good family fun whilst more serious golfers will appreciate Golf de Cahors within a half-hour drive.
- A car is essential when staying in Chateau Camelot as it is in a rural location.
