Overview

Bom Dia Villa is a delightful, traditional cottage that has been lovingly renovated into a charming holiday home. It nestles amongst the banana trees and vines of the Quinta Vista Alegre estate in Funchal, Madeira, providing you with a tranquil escape close to the city.

The character and atmosphere has been retained throughout the villa. Stone walls, chestnut-tree beams and select pieces of furniture crafted with wood from the estate complement Bom Dia Villa's naturally beautiful outside space. This villa really is an oasis of calm and is one that offers you the perfect opportunity to simply relax and get away from it all.

The accommodation at Bom Dia Villa is laid out over ground-floor level. Open the front door into a characterful and spacious living room with feature stone wall. The ceiling beams are another lovely original feature and complement the coffee table that's also been crafted out of wood from the estate. There's a comfortable sofa and two armchairs giving you the chance to find the perfect spot to relax and watch the television in the evenings. The kitchen/dining room is well-equipped, with amenities such as an oven, dishwasher, fridge and kettle. There's also a classic wood dining table for quick and easy serving of meals.

There's one bedroom at Bom Dia Villa and it features a large double bed, a chest of drawers and an ensuite bathroom.

For your convenience is a separate, shared laundry room with ironing board, iron, washing machine and dryer. You also have use of the picturesque outside space with a large swimming pool that is shared with the owner and their family. The front patio features a shared seating area also, which is shaded by vines and perfect for enjoying drinks and meals. Soak up the almost rural-feel of the plot as you stroll around the garden with its abundance of banana trees and range of colourful flowers and plants.
