Location & Local Information

The gorgeous village of San Carlos is just an 8-minute drive away and is known as a mecca for hippies and an authentic representation of Ibiza culture.

The village has been popular amongst hippie communities ever since the 60s and 70s and many of them live in old farmhouses or 'fincas' within the community. When visiting San Carlos, you'll find that the hippies who call it home can usually be found at the legendary Anita's Bar, a beautiful and traditional venue serving tasty Spanish cuisine.

Anita's bar is where many locals go to collect their mail (the village doesn't have a postal delivery service) and socialise. You can eat breakfast, lunch or dinner here in a lovely traditional setting.

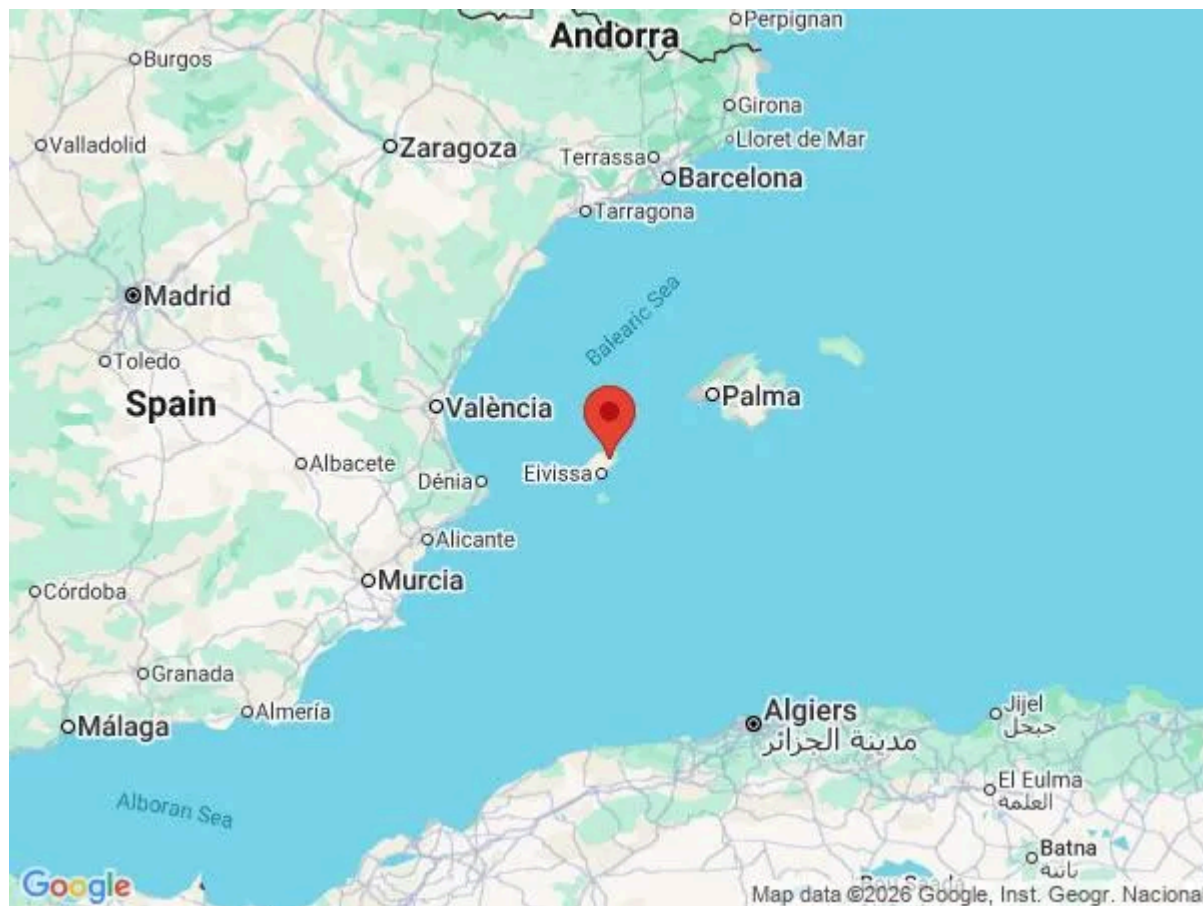

The famous hippy market, Las Dalias is also located in San Carlos and opens every Saturday from ten in the morning until late at night. The stalls consist of gorgeous handmade ornaments, clothing and jewellery and on every visit, you'll discover something new. In the summer, the market also opens on Monday nights.

Many islanders flock to Las Dalias for its range of live music played in the evenings. There's always something exciting happening here so make sure you keep yourself posted on the market's upcoming events.

Golfers must visit Golf Ibiza, which is a 30-minute drive away in Santa Eulalia. The lush and immaculate green golf course boasts two great courses perfect for both beginners and seasoned golfers.
