Location & Local Information

Villa Del Cantone’s spectacular location doesn’t just overlook the sea; it’s also in the heart of the picturesque Punta Campanella Natural Marine Reserve. The headland is renowned for breath-taking clifftop walks, ancient olive groves, tucked-away coves and crystal-clear waters, ideal for snorkellers, divers and swimmers.

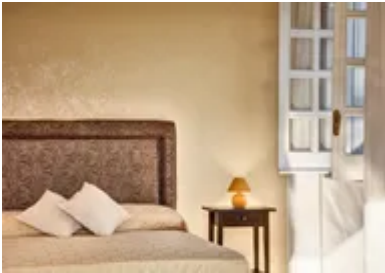

This stretch of the Amalfi Coast boasts an embarrassment of riches when it comes to bays, coves, and beaches, and it has been attracting holidaymakers since Roman times. Your local hamlet is minutes away, where you’ll find a sprinkling of shops, cafes, restaurants, a popular beach, and a walk leading you to an exquisite bay. Cool your feet off in the water before returning to the hamlet, which is uphill for less than one kilometre.

The hidden beach, caves and restaurant at Recommone Bay can be reached via a footpath leading from the local beach.

Day trips to Sorrento are only about half an hour away by car, and from here, you can take a ferry across to the magical Isle of Capri. Back on the Amalfi Coast, the glamorous coastal towns of Positano and Ravello offer dizzying views of the Tyrrhenian Sea from picture-perfect gardens and clifftop terraces. As an alternative to driving along steep, windy roads – although exhilarating – you can take boat tours of the coast from the local marina, which sail to many of this coastline’s spectacular sights and beautiful towns.
