

Villa Liva

Region: Brac Sleeps: 6

Overview

Villa Liva is a quaint and peaceful home situated in the lush countryside. Possessing a picturesque stone exterior with bright blue shutters, you will be excited to explore your new home as soon as you pull up to the entrance.

Outside, you could spend the entire day under the lovely sunshine. A dining area for six on the veranda is a brilliant alternative to eating indoors and means that you can dine under the night sky and to the calming sounds of the sea. A separate exterior seating area with comfy sofas, a swinging chair and a coffee table offers an alternative dining space or simply a daytime lounging spot.

An immaculate green lawn in the garden is a fantastic place for kids to run about on, and there is a small playground featuring a swing and a slide. There is also a shallow pool for the little ones, which is half a metre in depth!

The interior living area opens up to the pool via large glass sliding doors and boasts a neutral colour palette enriched by bursts of purple. There is one bedroom with an en-suite on the ground floor, and the remaining two are found on the first floor, along with a family bathroom.

Location & Local Information

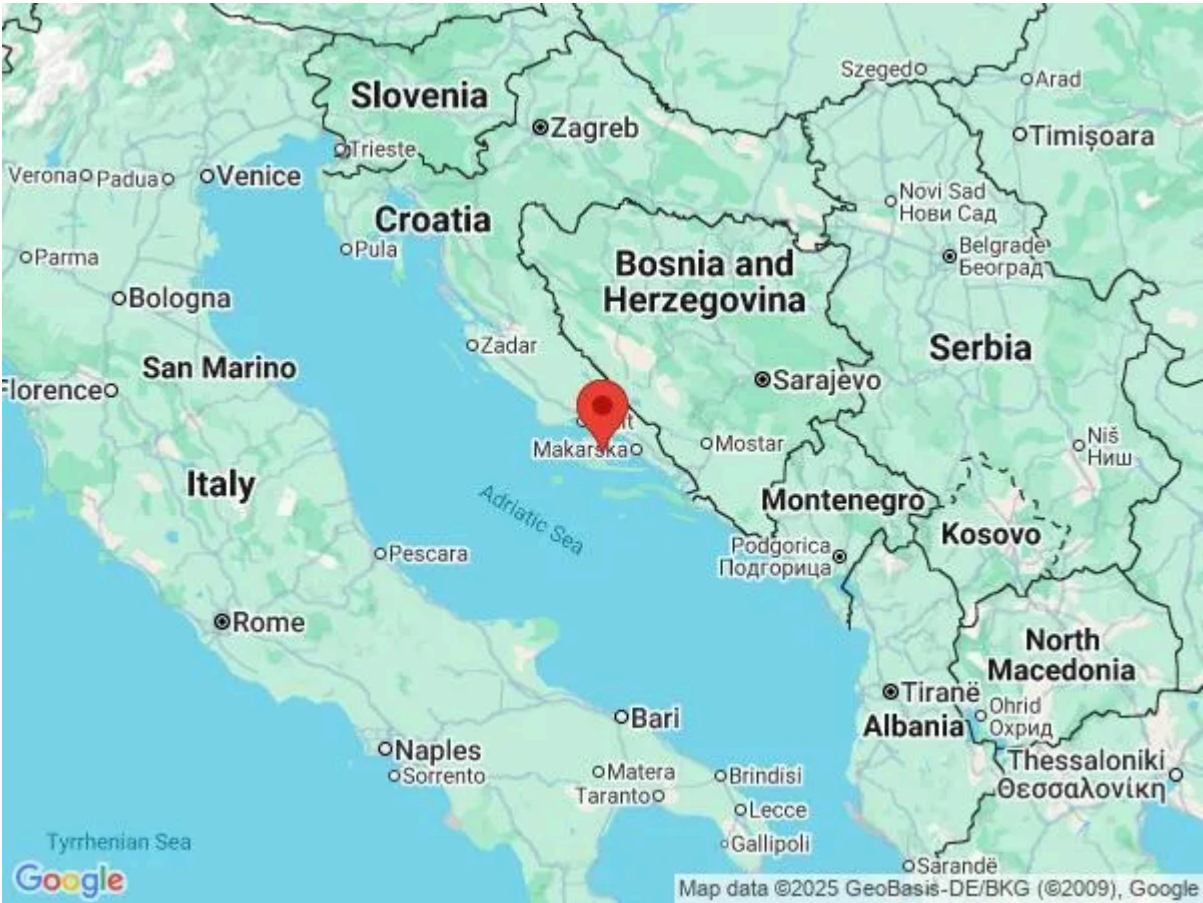

Vidova Gora is a spectacular peak located on Brac Island, which is actually the highest peak on all of the Adriatic islands. Being so close, it is definitely worth climbing to the top and being rewarded with outstanding vistas.

There are numerous trails leading up to the top so that each time you go (if you go more than once), you can enjoy a new experience. It's also fun to get lost in the greenery as you try to find your way to the top. From the top, you can gaze over the glittering Adriatic and the famous beach of Zlatni Rat. Why not try climbing at sunrise? You may be the only one there!

The Blaca Hermitage is a monastery where monks once used to worship God in peaceful solitude. It was then made into a church and is now a museum full of fascinating artefacts, books and artworks waiting to be discovered and admired. The Blaca Hermitage is now a UNESCO World Heritage site, and when you arrive there, you'll see why. This is a fascinating and memorable look into authentic Croatian history.
