Location & Local Information

Pitve is in the district of Jelsa on Hvar Island. It lies 168 metres above sea-level and in the hills above Jelsa. The road from Jelsa and Vrisnik goes through the 1500 metre long Pitve tunnel to reach Zavala, Ivan Dolac and Sveta Nedjelja on the south side of the island. Because of its very convenient location and defensive possibilities, Pitve has preserved the centuries-old architecture of a typical Dalmatian village.

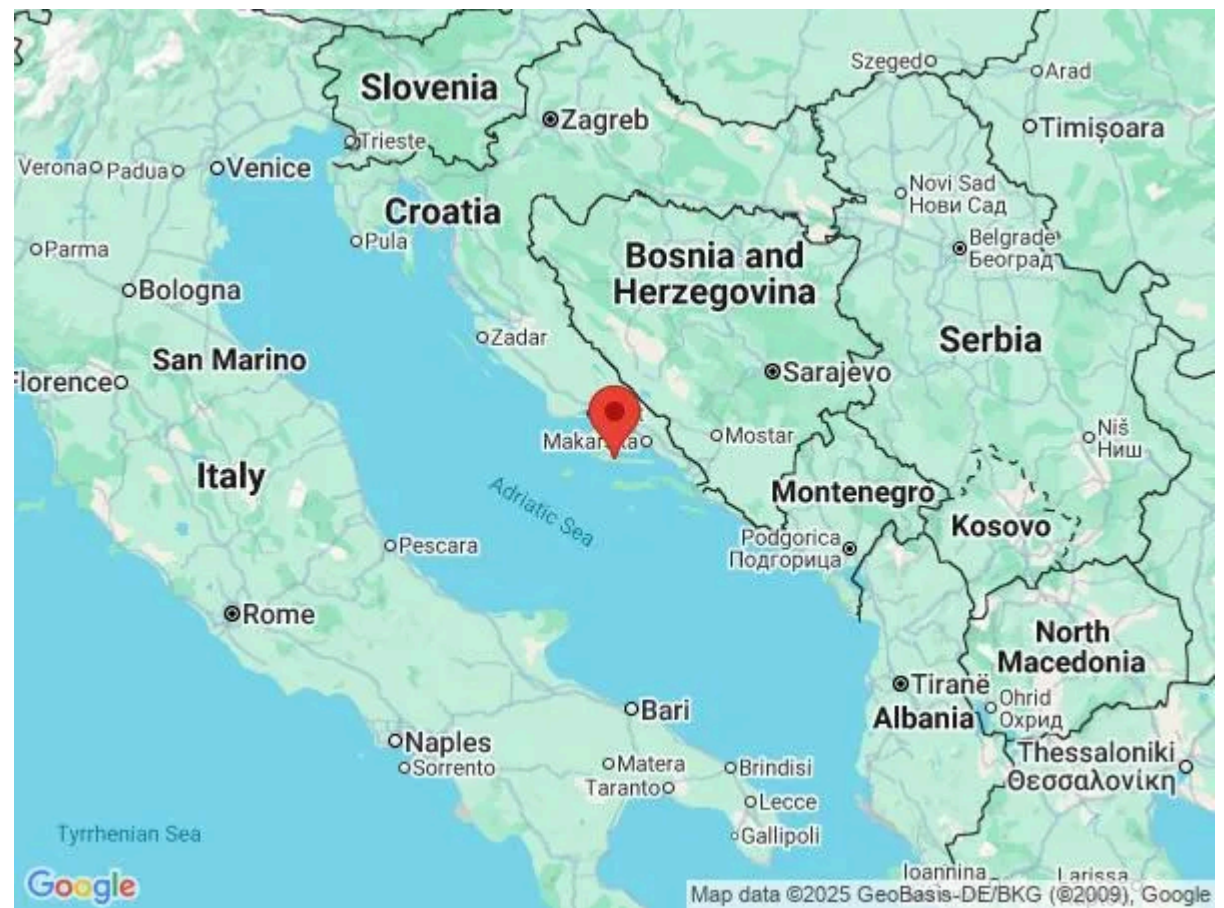

It will fascinate every visitor with its tightly bound houses, narrow paved streets and small squares. If you walk to the parish church of St Jacob, you will enjoy an extraordinary panoramic view of Veliko polje, Jelsa, the island of Brac, Hvar channel and the Makarska riviera. Stunning!

Charming Jelsa is the tourist centre on the north shore of the island. The fragrant smells of the dense pine forest, the nearby wonderful sandy beaches, numerous vineyards and historic cultural landmarks make Jelsa a fabulous place to visit. You can sample traditional Mediterranean cuisine and quality Hvar wine in its atmospheric restaurants and bars. Winetasting is a good option in the new winery. Vitarnja Beach is a beautiful cove near Jelsa which will delight with its clear azure blue waters and intoxicating aromas from the surrounding pine trees. Prapatna Beach is also worthy of a visit.

Many excursions can be taken from Jelsa. Bol is the place on the south shore of the island of Brac situated at the foot of the Vidora Gora, the highest peak of the Adriatic islands.

A visit to Hvar Town is a must! It is stunningly beautiful, and you are sure to find your share of magic, tranquillity, deep history with its monuments and also its incredible restaurants and nightlife – very popular with all.

Energetic holidaymakers can take a cycling tour from Stari Grad through the beautiful small villages of Dol, Vbanj, Svirce, Vrisnik, Jelsa and Vrboska. There are possibilities for sea kayaking, sailing, scuba diving and rock climbing.

Guests holidaying in Hvar usually fly to Split airport and take the catamaran to Hvar Town. You can also book a group speed taxi boat service, taking just 55 minutes from the airport to Hvar.

What you should know...

- It is necessary to have a rental car to travel around the island
- Hvar's picturesque setting also means it's susceptible to strong winds, especially during certain seasons.
- Given the villa's tranquil location in the heart of Hvar Island, guests may encounter local wildlife, such as insects and small animals. While these encounters are usually harmless, it's a good idea to keep doors and windows closed, especially in the evening, to prevent any unwelcome visitors from entering the living spaces.
