Location & Local Information

On the south coast of the Dominican Republic, just a few minutes' drive from La Romana International Airport, Casa de Campo is perhaps the finest resort in the country. It was certainly the first, and now – more than 50 years on – it offers a comprehensive range of facilities including 13 tennis courts and three top-notch golf courses including the spectacular, ocean-view Teeth of the Dog.

A shooting range, equestrian centre and soccer school can all be found at Casa de Campo, so it's the ideal resort for those who like their holidays active. As befits the location, you can enjoy various water-sports too, the Caribbean Sea and the Chavon River make for stunning aquatic adventures.

Positioned on the resort's private Minitas Beach, you will find a buzzing beach club with excellent dining and often live music or a DJ to accompany it. The beach itself is an idyllic spot to catch the sun, and the turquoise waters are popular with snorkellers and kayakers too.

A local highlight for visitors is Altos de Chavon, a charming village which may look centuries old, but actually dates back only as far as 1982. This makes the painstaking recreation all the more impressive; along with an archaeological museum and cultural centre, you will even find an incredible open-air amphitheatre. Big-name musicians often visit Casa de Campo, so don't be surprised to find the likes of Elton, Sting or Bryan Adams playing there. There is plenty to enjoy around this enchanting village – it's the setting for an unforgettable night out.
