Nisaki itself sits on the northeast coast of Corfu Island, with beautiful coves and beaches dotted across the coastline. The village is peaceful and picturesque bustling with local eateries and small shops, perfect for those who want a slice of traditional Greece. The laid-back and quiet feel to the town makes it ideal for older couples and young families looking for an escape from the hustle and bustle and to enjoy the quieter side of the island. Nisaki in Greek means "little island" and according to the locals it was once a small rocky island, which joined with the mainland of the village through the years!

Nisaki beach is less than a 10-minute drive from the villa's front door, as well as several others spread along the coast. The beach offers a pebbly shore with clear water and plenty of coves for you to explore – ideal for those who love snorkelling! Kalamí Beach is another must-visit, just a 15-minute drive away, with its horseshoe-shaped beach and crystal-clear waters.

If you desire a livelier night out, then Kassiopi along the coast offers an insight into Corfu's famous nightlife! With late-night bars and dance spots, you can enjoy a different aspect of the island, perfect for young adults and groups of friends that want to enjoy both sides of the island's culture!

Corfu Town, the capital of this stunning island, can be reached in 40-minutes. You can amble around the majestic streets and soak in the beauty of this UNESCO world heritage site, spending an afternoon and evening meandering around the Venetian fortress and English Palace, losing yourself in the enchanting history of this town. The cobbled streets are filled with lively restaurants, coffee shops, bars and boutiques, all enclosed within
